MASTERS OF ARTS. THE EXAMINATIONS.

Harris (chairman of the faculty) explained that these distinctions were given only on the most rigid written examinations, a the most rigid written examinations, at which the students were required to obtain 80 out of the 100 in order to obtain the distinctions. He also stated that in standing examinations for appointments at West Point, for other Government appointments, &., no Riehmond College loy had ever failed except when two of them were centending for the same appointment and only one could win.

Rev. J. Calvin Stewart made a witty sensible, and practical speech in presenting the "Woods" and "Steel" medals. The essay of Mr. Stearnes was well-concived, carefully thought out, well written and well read.

DIPLOMAS IN THE SEPARATE SCHOOLS. nifflows in the separate schools. In delivering the diplomas in the separate schools Dr. Harris illustrated the high standard required by saying that he doubted if the professor of Latin when he graduated at the University of Virginia twenty-eight years ago could have stood the examination which he required his class this year to pass, and he knew that the professor of Greek could not when he got his diploma at the university have passed the examination which he put up for his students this year. students this year.

DR. HATCHER IN PLACE OF DR. EUCHANAN. In the absence of Dr. Buchanan, who was to have delivered the "Tanner" and "Gwin" medals, Dr. W. E. Hatcher was called out, and delivered the medals in his MR. WILLIAMS.

Mr. H. W. Williams's address was a houghtful and carnest presentation of his sportant theme. THOSE WHO FAILED.

THOSE WHO FAILED.

After delivering the degree diplomas Professor Harris made brief but very appropriate remarks to those students who had tabled, reminding them that it was before to fail here (after honest effort) than to pass at some other places where the standard is lower, and that manifinesse and courage will succeed, and to these who had won partial succees and who were expected to come back and give tone and character to the next session of the college. THE COUNCIL TO CONSIDER THE PAVING ORDINANCE TO-NIGHT.

A Money-Eating Telephone Attachment-Contemplated Church Improvements-Hustings Court-Personal, &c.

An adjourned meeting of the Manchester Council will be held at 8 o'clock to-night The chief subject which will be considered is the ordinance providing for paving the sidewalks and guttering and curbing the streets of the city. Other matters of less importance will be brought to the attention of the body, among them some suggestions looking to bettering the condition of the streets. Nine votes are required to adopt the ordinance; therefore it is of the utmost importance that there shall be a full attendimportance that there shall be a full attendance. Greatly the majority of the people beartily favor the scheme and there is no heartily favor the scheme and there is no question as to its adoption.

This measure was discussed at the regular meeting of the Council on the 10th instant, and finally postponed until to-night, with the understanding that during the interim the Street Committee would, with the advice and assistance of Mr. Pulliam, who framed the paper, remedy such defects as were then pointed out. The committee, as previously stated in the Dispatch, met and amended the ordinance, and will have it to night printed as amended. One provides that a person owning a corner piece of property fronting on a crossfreet shall bear the expense of paving, guttering, and curbing as many feet on the sfreet shall bear the expense of paving, guttering, and curbing as many feet on the side street where the pavement is 12½ feet instead of 6½ feet as on the cross street. The other provides that the paving bonds, which run for twenty years, shall bear 3 instead of 6 per cent. This really amounts to 6 per cent, as the interest will be computed for twenty years on the amount assessed against any tax-payer, and the aggregated sum of principal and interest added together will be divided into twenty equal annual instalments. For sons paying their whole obligations at once or any time before maturity will not have to pay time before maturity will not have to pay any interest. EXPENSIVE TELEPHONE ATTACHMENT.

EXPENSIVE TELETHONE ATTACHMENT.

An attachment was yesterday placed on the telephone of Messrs, Bowen & Bradley. Thirteenth and Hull streets, which will either greatly lessen the use of that Instrument by non-subscribers or will yield a hindsome revenue to the telephone company. Before a connection can be obtained a dime has to be deposited in an opening prepared for its reception. As this signs down it touches a spring in such a manner that the wires can be logined to. this stips down it touches a spring in such a manner that the wires can be joined together. One can then call up and talk with as many places as may be desired, provided the 'phone is not placed back on the hook. When this is done the circuit is broken, and another dime has to be given to the "machine" before it will allow itself to be used again, except in response to calls from other stations. Proprietors of the houses in which there are placed have to pay the ten cents. these are placed have to pay the ten cents as well as those who are not subscribers, after the company has received a certain amount from the 'phone-tax half of the remainder goes to the renter. The object of the attachment is clearly to prevent the use without cost of 'phones by non-subscribers. TO BE PURTHER IMPROVED.

OTHER CHURCHES, Many of the other congregations contemplate improving their places of worship in the near future. The Balabridge-street Baptist church, the largest in the city, is to be thoroughly remodelled and renovated, repainted out and inside, repapered inside, and the front changed. The Presbyterians, whose church is entirely too wall, bore at an early day to be able small, hope at an early day to be able to commence the erection of a new and much more commodious building on centrally-located and beautiful lot their centrally-located and beautiful for Rev. weeks. The neat fence which has just been put around the church, enclosing its yard, is being painted. This is one of the most attractive churches in the city.

Our churches are all in a flourishing condition, and with these improvements completed they will continue to grow and bring the entire population under their christian influence. Between the several denominations here the most beautiful harmony prevails, and the ministers are all

MR. BEYAN.

The first witness called yesterday was Mr.
Joseph Bryan, who was present when the agreement was made, March 11, 1886, on the train bound for New York.
Mr. Bryan's evidence, like that of Mr.
A.S. Dunban who was also on the A. S. Dunham, who was also on the train, corroborated Mr. Seddon's statement of the case as published in yesterday's Dis-

MEMORANDUMS MADE. WEMORANDEMS MADE.

When the agreement was made the former, at the request of the parties to it, made two memorandums in his note-book, which were read by both and pronounced correct. In the first Messre, seddon and Rosenbaum made a bet concerning Danville stock, the tormer taking the position that it would reach a certain figure in a given time. This was afterward declared off and they entered into an agreement that given time. This was afterward declared off and they entered into an agreement that Rosenbaum should sell Seddon 200 shares of stock at $96 (to be bought at $80), to be held three years unless sooner called for by Seddon. These two memorandums are filed as a part of the record of the case.

MR. ROSENBAUM'S SIDE.

Mr. Rosenbaum, in presenting his side of the case, said he met with Messrs. Seddon, Bryan, and Dunham on the train on their way to New York, and had a conversation with Mr. Seddon in relation to stocks. During the conversation reference was made to Danville stock. He admitted that he did agree to sell Mr. Seddon 250 shores of stock at 96, to be called for at any time within three years, and also that the memorandum made at the time by Mr. Joseph Bryan was correct, but that he thought it was simply a joke, and had no idea that the other gentletaen were serious; that he all the way through considered the conversation simply bandinage. After they had separated he went back to Mr. Seddon and told him that he was joking.

Further Evidence in the Case of the Alleged Transaction in Danville Stock.

The trial of the case of Thomas Seddon test. M. Rosenbaum, was resumed in the case of the consequence of which nearly every distiller not only worked his plant to the utmost extent, but made considerable addition. As a result distillers were suddenly confronted with a glutted market. To avoid paying the Government taxes, which would fall due on bonded goods after they had been stored thirty-six months. In 1881 vast quantities were exported to Europe and the Bermudas.

THREE CENTS PER COPY.

Us. M. Rosenbaum, was resumed in the City Circuit Court yesterday morning.

Judge Hancock, of Chesterfield, presiding for Judge Weilford, who thought it im. at a price far below what the goods would have cost in bulk five years ago, invested largely in these exported goods, and now offer a whiskey guaranteed pure and free from fusel oil, mellowed by age, and endersed by the leading physicians of the country, who fully realize the importance, in fact vital necessity, of being able to obtain a pure whiskey for medicinal use, as many of the commercial whiskeys are merely compounded from high wines and crude essential oils. In a hand-made whiskey the grain is allowed to heat naturally and slowly, thereby forming certain chemical combinations which tend to neutralize any lit effects of the crude alcohol, and are both tonic and reviving in their effects. A peor grade of whiskey made from mash that has been artificially fermented does not contain these qualities, but, on the contrary, contains large quantities of fusel oil, a deadly poison, and is the cause of head-aches and functional derangements usually attributed to the effect of the whiskey.

The Belle of Bourbon is entirely free from this, and the essential oils in it have not only been extracted by the natural fermentation, but have been inclowed by the years it has lain in bend; and but for the reasons mentioned in the first part of this article it would have been impossible to sell it for less than at least $2 a bottle.
